

UNCOVERED!

Cadwgan, Bishop of Bangor and monk of Dore

A talk by Shaun McGuinness

Cadwgan was consecrated Bishop of Bangor in 1215. Unusually in 1236 he retired to the Cistercian Abbey of Dore as a simple monk and was buried there. Shaun McGuinness is compiling the first edition of the surviving documents of the medieval bishops of Bangor as part of his PhD research. He has uncovered original manuscripts which add considerably to our knowledge of this spiritual and scholarly man who left traces in the archives of Hereford Cathedral .
